CONDITIONS.

1. The highest bidder is to be the buyer, and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the lot so in dispute shall be immediately put up again and resold.

2. The purchasers to give their names and addresses and to pay down a cash deposit, or the whole of the purchase money, if required, in default of which the lot or lots so purchased to be immediately put up again and resold.

3. The lots to be taken away at the buyer's expense and risk upon the conclusion of the sale, and the remainder of the purchase money to be absolutely paid or otherwise settled for to the satisfaction of the auctioneer, on or before delivery; in default of which, the undersigned will not hold himself responsible if the lots be lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser.

4. The sale of any article is not to be set aside on account of any error in the description. All articles are exposed for public exhibition one or more days, and are sold just as they are, without recourse.

5. To prevent inaccuracy in delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases no lot can, on any account, be removed during the sale.

6. If, for any cause, an article purchased cannot be delivered in as good condition as the same may have been at the time of its sale, or should any article purchased thereafter be stolen, misdelivered, or lost, the undersigned are not to be held liable in any greater amount than the price bid by the purchaser.

7. Upon failure to comply with the above conditions, the money deposited in part payment shall be forfeited, all lots uncleared within the time aforesaid shall be re-sold by public or private sale, without further notice, and the deficiency, if any, attending such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulter, at this sale, together with all charges attending the same. This condition is without prejudice to the right of the auctioneer to enforce the contract made at this sale, without such re-sale, if he thinks fit.

JAMES P. SILO,

11 THE OLD JETTY ON THE KENT COAST

FLORENT WILLEMS.

(Paris)

Born at Liege, Belgium, in 1816, Willems early became a student of the works of the old Dutch masters. At the Paris Salon of 1844 his picture "Visit to a Young Mother" was received with such favor that thereafter he made his home in Paris. He received numerous medals, and in 1851 was made an officer of the Order of Léopold of Belgium. He received the decoration of the Legion of Honor in 1853 and was made Commander of the same in 1878.

The picture "Dressing the Bride" is an admirable example of the artist's best style. The handsome bride in her white satin dress and her attendant in pink with the rich and beautifully painted accessories of a luxurious household, contribute to form a composition of more than usual attractiveness and interest.

ALONSO CANO.

1601-1667

18 PORTRAIT OF A YOUNG PRINCE

Alonso Cano was a contemporary of Velasquez and studied under Pacheco of whom Velasquez also, was a pupil. Like Velasquez also, he was employed by the Minister Olivares. He was noted not only as a painter but also as an architect. This portrait, which considerably suggests the work of Velasquez, represents a boy with blue eyes and long blond hair falling over his shoulders. He wears a black coat with a broad white collar. The jeweled collar of the golden fleece is around his neck and a belt with a jeweled clasp and a sword with an elaborately chased hilt shown at his waist.

GEORGE ROMNEY.

(1734-1802)

Born at Dalton-le-Furness, Lancashire, England. Pupil of Christopher Steele (a pupil of Van Loo). Went to London in 1762 and soon became a rival of Sir Joshua Reynolds and Gainsborough in popularity. He painted the portraits of many of the most prominent persons in English society in his time. The characteristics of his art are grace, pleasant color and agreeable line.

Three-quarter length, life size portrait of a handsome young woman with blue eyes and brown curling hair, clad in a light brown dress with golden yellow sash. She wears a broad brimmed black hat with white feathers. Landscape background.

DELPY CAMILLE HIPPOLYTE.

Pupil of Corot and Daubigny. Medals, Paris Salon, 1884, 1889.

Delpy is considered to-day one of the greatest landscape painters; his works show many of the characteristic qualities of Corot and Daubigny, and are worthy to be compared with theirs. They are proof of a direct and intimate study from nature, and give an impression of freshness of pure atmosphere.

Delpy is represented in many of the Art Museums of France and England and in numerous private collections.

(1598-1662)

Zurbaran was a contemporary of Valesquez and, like the latter was patronized by King Philip IV. He was a pupil of Juan de Roelas, but was much influenced by Caravaggio, and became known as "the Spanish Caravaggio." This picture represents a ruddy-faced man with dark eyes and dark brown curling hair, wearing a coat of black brocade with slashed sleeves, a broad white collar edged with lace and lace cuffs. Painted in a broad simple manner.

Eugene Jettel, the Austrian; J. C. Cazin, the Frenchman, and Anton Mauve, the Dutchman, are of the present generation of landscape painters who have brought the harmony of tones and the impression of light and nature to the highest degree of perfection. They are the most prominent of all in these particulars, and really are worthy to be compared with the great painters of the Barbizon school. Eugene Jettel's works especially show the characteristic qualities of Rousseau, Corot and Daubigny; a direct and intimate study from nature, a great variety of colors and effects, the most exquisite delicacy of tones and the impression of "plein-air."

COROT, J. B. C.

Jean Baptiste Camille Corot was born in Paris, 1796, the son of a prosperous tradesman; pupil of Michallon and Victor Bertin, and traveled in Italy in 1826. Traveled much in France, painting from nature and creating a style out of his experiments. Although at first neglected by the public, his patrimonial fortune enabled him to live comfortably and paint to suit himself. He received medals in 1833, 1848, 1855, 1867; was given the Legion of Honor in 1846, and became an officer in 1867. He died in Paris in 1875. The influence of Corot on the art of our time cannot be over-estimated. He lifted landscape painting into the realm of idyllic poetry, just as Rousseau gave it a tragic, and Diaz a romantic significance. Each man painted according to his feelings. The spirit of the south which burned in Diaz, the melancholy of an unhappy life which darkened Rousseau, was replaced in Corot by a genial gayety of temperament which reflects itself in his works.
